

Kilimanjaro Christian Medical University College
(A Constituent College of Tumaini University Makumira)

Course announcement: Innovation for supporting health

Course dates: January 23-25 – 2023

Course responsible

Palle Høy Jakobsen at Copenhagen Business School, Lone Stagsted Sillesen At Biomedical Design Fellowship Programme, Michael Alifrangis at University of Copenhagen and Prof. Elton Kisanga, Kilimanjaro Christian Medical University College

Course objectives

The objective of the course is to provide a systematic overview of the most common aspects of commercialisation of innovations for health and other lifescience applications. Another objective is to provide tools to researchers to meet specified challenges mainly in relation to health.

Course activities

Participants will submit draft innovation proposals (as part of the application process). Some of the proposal will be selected for casework during the 3day course in January. The course content includes lectures, casework assignments and case presentations using modern educational tools enabling participants to develop their innovative skills for solving challenges.

Learning outcomes

The participants will be able to demonstrate the following abilities at a sufficient level:

- Manage the understanding of health care challenges, the unmet needs and how to address these challenges with an innovation perspective
- Understand the major steps in doing innovation activities
- Explain how to draft a business plan
- Explain the basic steps in commercialisation activities

To apply

Submit the following before 31st October 2022 to Ms. Beatrice Temba

Email: beatrice.temba@kcmuco.ac.tz Mobile: 0752 103170

- A Motivation letter (max. 1 page)
- A CV (max 2 pages), including an email
- An idea for innovation; stating problem and possible solution (max. 1 page)

Selected participants will be contacted and feedback on the innovation ideas will be provided by December 1st 2022.

The course is funded through the Danida Fellowship Centre Building Stronger Universities (BSU) project

Danida Fellowship Centre
Sustaining development through research and learning

UNIVERSITY OF
COPENHAGEN